We are without political news. Three new Senators have been added to the list—Sen. Aupick, the French Ambassador at Madrid, M. Lebrun, expect of France, and Baron Thieulen, member of the Corps Legislats!. It is now said that the coronation of the Emperor and Empress will take place next month.

Although the negotiations between Prussia and France for the accession of the latter to the Austro-German postal anion have not succeeded, they have led to the adoption of certain facilities in commercial communications. These measures will soon be carried into effect, and will, it is supposed, lead to the conclusion of a definitive postal treaty.

The question of a reconciliation between the eider branch of the Bourbons and the Orleans branch, after having siembered for some months, begins again to be spoken of. It is said that the king of the Beigians, who has hitherto taken to part in the affair, has written to the Duchess of Orleans, strongly urging the necessity of a "fusion." and declaring that the resistance of the Orleans family was seriously injuring the future prospects of the Compte de Faris. M Booffe, the celebrated commedian, has returned to Paris and is soon to make his re appearance at one of the theatres. He had selected for his debut the piece of Michel Perrin, in which he had gained great celebrity.
It appears, however, that there are some passages in this piece rather more republican than suits the present regime, and the censorship refused to allew it to be performed. Bouffe, who attached greaf importance to his making his debut in this piece, used every argument in his power with the censorship, but in vain, and then, remembering the old saving, 'que' if rout mieux s'addresser à Dieu qu'a ser saints,'' he solicited an audience of the Emperor. His Majesty could not imatine what M. Bouffe the comedian could have to say to cout mieux s'adireuser à Dieu qu'u ser saints," he solicited an audience of the Emperor. His Majesty could not imagine what M. Bouffé the comedian could have to say to him, but immediately granted the audience. Bouffé went to the Tulleries with the MS of the plece, and having told the Emperor of the prohibition of the censorship, requested him to cast his eyes over the MS. The Emperor did so, and after rending several pages, gave it back to the actor, and said. "And are you very anxious, M. Bouffé, that this piece should be reproduced?" He replied, "Yes, Bire, for the part of Michel Ferrin was one of my most successful performances, and I have been so long away from Paris, that I wish to reappear in a favorite character." "I can understand that," said the Emperor, "and I can see no objection to your doing so. Do not make your mind uneasy about the consorship—lo-day I am the sensor, and I authorize the performance."

With regard to the journey of the Pope to Paris, it is said that he will arrive there in Ms., The Holy See will obtain many important advantages by this concession of the Pope to the wishes of Napoleon, not the least of which will be the loan of the nor twelve millions of francs to recruit the exhausted treasury of the Eternal City. The legitimists are positively wild with chagrin at this abandonment of the principle of "divine right," on the part of the head of the Church, and many prophetic warnings are held out that the College of Cardinals, in permitting the act, are blindly, but deliberately, sealing the doom of the Papacy.

The correspondent of the London Globe writes:—"A friend of mine, in parrison at Vincennes, had the honor of accompanying the Emperor and Empress on their visit to different parts of that fortress on Monday last. The mails bring nothing of interest. It is scarcely fair to repeat the very delicate innendoes respecting the position of the Empress Engenie. Physiologists may perhaps be able to explain the circumstance, but to an unlettered public it does seem odd that at the present moment the queens of Britain. Spain Portugal, Greece, and France, should exhibit symptoms so remarkably similar. The sprit du corps of kings and queens gis endeavoring, no deubt, to counteract the levelling propensities of such throne-hating democrats as Mazzini.

It is now definitely stated in French circles that the Pope will go to Paris to crown Napoleon and his wife. The artificers are ordered to send in all the paraphernalia by May lat. We may expect the ceremony to take place soon after—very likely on the anniversary of "the stormfal afth of May."

OPPOSITION TO THE GOVERNMENT—GEN. NARVAEZ—

OPFOSITION TO THE GOVERNMENT.

The ministry have sustained a defoat is the Senate. The four secretaries elected belong to the opposition The Senate refused to admit the new senators before the sensitiution.

The decided attitude of opposition taken by the majority of the Senate, and the steps already adopted for forcing on discussions most unpaltable to the government—whilst the revision of the election proceedings in the other House bids fair to be nearly equally embarrassing, and to lead to violent and long continued discussions—eause it to be roundly predicted in political circles that one of two things will have to take place very shortly; either the present ministry must retire, or the Cortes be suspended; but which of the two events will take place no one pretends to divine. The Count of Alcoy certainly made a very sorry figure in the Senate yesterday; and the opposition, feeling their strength, will probably allow no time to be lost, but will urge on motions which must bring matters to a crisis. The forty new secators, whose nominations were gazetted a little before the Cortes opened, cannot take their seats until their qualifications have been duly reported upon by the committee on qualifications, and approved of by the Honse; and this committee has yet to be appointed. There is little weight has the present ministry in itself, that it is believed that if the high influences which generally prevait in the long run here were persunded that its fall would conciliate the combined opposition, a change of ministry would probably be almost immediate; but matters have taken such a turn of late, that persons in high quarters are said to consider their own position enlangered by the success of the opposition; and it is even stated that direct menses have been held out to certain irresponsible parties, to whose intrigoes the course which things have taken such a turn of late, that persons in high quarters are said to consider their own position enlangered by the success of the opposition; and it is even stated th

In the Spanish Senate, on the 3d, just as the drawing for the sections was about to take place, Gen. O'Bonnell rose to demand that a communication should be read which had been handed to the President from Marshal Narvaez, in which, after complaining of the conduct of the government in preventing his taking his seat in the Senate, he demanded that an inquiry should be made into his conduct, he having a right to be tried by his peers. The President objected to this course, which, he said, was contrary to the regulations; but it was overruied, and with the consent of the Minister of war, who was the only member of the cabinet present, the communication was read. The question was then started whether the Senate should or should not take the communication into consideration, and after some discussion the matter was adjourned to the following day. A communication by express, of the 5th, states that the proposition for taking the communication into consideration was opposed by the ministry on that day, and, after some warm discussions rejected.

the communication into consideration was opposed by the ministry on that day, and, after some warm discussion, rejected.

The Madrid journals of the 5th inst. state, that in the sitting of the Senate on the previous day, the Minister of Justice replied with great energy to all the represence brought forward against the ministry by the members of the opposition, relative to the proceedings recently adopted against the press. The proposition of the opposition, for passing a vote of censure on the government, was rejected by a majority of 64 to 52. In the Chamber of Peputies, M. Negrete warmly attacked the illegal conduct of the government in certain elections, and his remarks elicited a very energetic denial from the Minister of the Interior.

MILITARY PRECAUTIONS-DEATH OF BARON VON

MILITARY PRECAUTIONS—DEATH OF BARON VON BUCK.

Great military precautions are being taken at Nuremburg; also at Bamberg and Munich, as if in anticipation of an outbreak. Several political arrests have been made at Furth.

The Cologne Gazeile, under date of Berlin 7th, says:—The German States on the borders of Switzerland are at this moment sending troops to the frostier. It is worthy of remark that no resolution to that effect has been come to by the Germanic Diet; the particular States have adopted the measure of themselves, in order to exercise a more severe surveillance with regard to foreigners. Other German States, not on the confines of Switzerland, have also adopted similar measures."

The committee of the Second Prussian Chamber on the budget, having refused to propose the grant demanded by the Germanic Diet for the completion of the federal fortresses, the cabinet of Berlin has invoked the paragrach of the Federal Act, which states that the sums demanded for the federal depicts cannot be refused by the Chambers, and has given the 274,000 thalers.

The Attorney General of the Elector of Hesse has on hand at this moment a precention for high treason, in which there are 500 defendants. All the accused belong to the town of Hanau, the corporation of which was lately arraigned en-bloc.

In the sitting of the Germanic Diet, on the 5th, the reinforcement of the federal military service was negatived.

CREAT POLITICAL EXCITEMENT.

The Daily News correspondence from Berne and Geneva represents the political condition of Switzerland to be one of great excitement. Petitions for the convocation of the Federal Council are in circulation. Great discontent is telt with the federal executive because it has not published the Austrian notes and its own replies, and then thrown itself upon the nation.

RECOVERY OF THE EMPEROR—THE FEELING IN VIENNA—EMECUTION OF GUERILLAS.

The Emperor has quite recovered. His wound, indeed, was at no time dangerous to life, but the shock seemed to have affected his brate, and it being notorious that "his bosom's lord does not sit firmly on his throne," fears were entertained that his intellect would be unsettled. These fears are now over. The subscription to build a church in commomoration of his majesty's escape has reached nearly 150 000 florins, although some think the matter had better have been allowed to subside quietly. Count O'D mnell, who cut the assassin down, and the burgher fittenreich, who held bim when he was down, are still the heroes of the day in Vienna. The former has received a splendid vase from the ladies a prayer book from the priests, with ribands and orders from several courts, and the latter has been ornamented with the civil medal "of the Redeemer."

From Festh 1st instant, it was stated that Noszlopy, chief of the guerilles, and three of his accomplices, one of whom was tutor to Koszuth's children, were to be executed on the 3d. The victims being Charles Juhbal, extutor to Kossuth's family, Charles Andraeffy Von Devengujfala, Caspar Noszlopy, and Samuel Sarkozy. Andrasffy was shot in the Neugebaude, and the other three hanged at the usual place of execution before the Ulber gate Agreat crowd attended. Sarkozy suffered first, then Juhbal and Noszlopy. The last, says the Prezze, was the only one who showed no signs of repentance.

At Milan there is no relaxation of the Austrian oppression. Citizens are forbidden to approach the scarries, and M. Bernardi, having failed to observe the regulation, was bayoneted. The number of arrests made in Milan between the 6th and 25th of February, was over 600, notwithstanding which," says a correspondent of the Augsburg Guzette "three robberies were committed in the streets in one night, recently by fellows armed with long daggers." Passage through the gates is now permitted, but every passenger must be provided with a regular passport, or a permission of residence. The army in Lombardy is to be reinforced by several brigades, one of which must already have reached Milan. An augmentation has been made to the force, now numbering 15,000 men, on the frontier of Ticino. The sequestrations of property continue. The Case of Capitaln Schaumburg.

Washinston, March 24, 1853.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

I observe your telegraphic correspondent, in his communication of yesterday, states that "Capitaln Gardner's nomination, as capitain of the First Dragoons, was confirmed this day by three majority, after a long debate, and the Senate thus abandoning Lieut. Schaumburg's claim." I have to state that the Senate's confirmation of Gardner's nomination does not thereby abandon my right to premotion. The Senate, when forty-nine Senators were present, refused to confirm Gardner's nomination, because of my prior right to nomination for promotion by a large majority; this was, too, after the Senate had, for two sessions, refusel to confirm his promotion, and had passed an unequivocal resolution, which is still adhered to by the Senate, as follows:—

Senate, March 1st, 1850:

Resolved. That the resolution of the 2d March, 1849, respecting James W. Schaumburg, is hereby re-affirmed, and farther, that the Senate considers First Lieutenant James W. Schaumburg has been improperly separated from the army, and that he is now entitled to the commission of capitain in the First Regiment of Dragoons, made vacant by the resignation of Capitain Eustis, and that the Secretary of the Senate passent a copy of this resolution to the President, Fillmore, saying, *

The Senate has twice declared, by resolution, his right to promotion—* Believing that he is entitled to promotion, and deserving of it, we carnestly recommend him to you. Signed by Hon. Messrs. Clay, Cass, Mangum, King, Hunter, Cooper, Soule, Downs, Atchievon, Bell, Douglas, Right, Dodge of Wisconsin, Dodge and Jones of Iowa, Dickinson, Ruk, Houton, Hamlin, Smith, Fremont, Whitcomb, Foote, Wales, Walker, Morton, Chase, Hale, Winthrop, Felch, Places, with hree exceptions, are supplied with others who are of the same opinion; and several who were opposed to this opinion are not now in the Senate, their successors, are, for instan to such sominations as the laws provide for, the President, it would be presumed, would hardly diaregard the Senate's recommendation; and thus have I been suspended between the Executive and the Senate for several years; the former according with the latter in the first recommendation of the Senate against me in March, 1845, and disregarding its after resolution in my favor since that time. I im bound not to give up the matter so long as I can find a single Senator to insist upon my promotion and nomination on the occurrence of every vacancy until justice be done me. I have presecuted my demands as an American citizen against premeditated injustice to me—against a host of political, personal, and high official prejudices and untiring military. influence at the seat of government; as, par example, epauletted characters have been allowed to leave their military duties at remote stations to come to Washington to sycophantics, fiatter, and slander, that their selfish and unprincipled ends may be consummated. But I shall not surrender.

Ilease do me the justice to publish this note in your widely circulating journal, and oblige yours, &c.
